ADDITIONAL CONSIDERATIONS IN MAXIMIZING ORGANIZATIONAL PRODUCTIVITY

Chiang Hsu (徐強)

Abstract

This paper addresses the concern of quantifying the effect of the management function in terms of the nature of the task, the human requirements and the pattern of management, and its relationship to productivity.

The scope of the paper covers an explanation of the problem, a literature review, and a mathematical framework are presented with which management intervention trends and levels of task context presentations can be mathematically tested.

Key words and Phrases: Organizational Productivity, Task-Oriented Approaches, Human Relationship Approaches, Socio-technical Approaches.